WASHINGTON D.C. MAN INDICTED FOR BANK ROBBERIES

Greenbelt, Maryland - Thomas M. DiBiagio, United States Attorney for the District of Maryland, announced today that a federal grand jury has indicted Calvin Kinard Adams, age 22, of Washington, D.C. for crimes committed in connection with a series of bank robberies in the Maryland and Washington metropolitan area. The ten-count indictment charges Adams with bank robberies occurring in Montgomery, Prince George's, and Anne Arundel counties.

After the Federal Bureau of Investigation disseminated bank video surveillance film to the local media for publication, Adams was arrested on a tip and detained in Washington, D.C.

Each count of the indictment carries a maximum term of 20 years imprisonment, as well as a $250,000 fine. The defendant may also be ordered to make restitution to each of the banks.

An indictment is not a finding of guilt. An individual charged by indictment is presumed innocent unless and until proven guilty at some later criminal proceedings.

The criminal charges in this indictment are the result of a joint investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the United States Attorney's Office. The case is being prosecuted by Assistant U.S. Attorney James M. Trusty.
